

Do clients need two doses of the same vaccine to travel internationally?

Could Canada's policy on mixed vaccines impact travellers?

Meanwhile, a representative of St. Barts confirmed that travellers who can prove they've received two doses of the COVID-19 vaccine from the approved list will be able to travel regardless of if it is two different types of vaccines.

"After two successful vaccination campaigns, the majority of our residents are vaccinated and we are ready to reopen our borders and welcome visitors back to St. Barts," says Nils DuFau, president of the Tourism Committee of St. Barts.

The Caribbean destination started welcoming fully vaccinated U.S. travellers back on June 9.
